OUR STEWARDSHIP

A note on Stewardship from Fr. Matt…..

In the spirit of stewardship, we eliminated all 2nd collection envelopes as of January 1, 2014. We were all asked to prayerfully evaluate our treasures and to identify what we could give as a total gift.

In the first three months, we can see that there has been an increase in the weekly collection. However, at the current rate of giving, we can project there will be a shortage of $12,600 earmarked for those 2nd collections by year-end.

This stewardship model challenges us to think and act in a different way. St. James parishioners are very generous, and I ask you to remember to share from your total gift so that we in turn can share it with others.

Priest Residence update….

Fr. Matt, Fr. Joji and Fr. Gilbert will be moving back to the “old” rectory in early summer. We will be selling the following properties:
737 N. Evergreen
739 N. Evergreen
737 N. Arlington Heights Rd. and the adjacent lot

Building Loan update…

Our current building loan balance is $692,613.27. Our monthly payment is $12,840.85.

We will use the proceeds of the house sales to retire the loan.

Good Friday Collection A Pontifical Collection

Christians around the world are united in a special way during Lent, Holy Week and Easter. Our hearts, minds and prayers are also especially aware of the Holy Land.

As a Pontifical collection requested by Pope Francis, the annual Good Friday Collection offers a direct link for parishioners to be witnesses of peace and to help protect the Holy Places. When you donate on Good Friday, we are supporting Christians in the Holy Land. Franciscans and others in the Holy Land are housing and feeding the poor, providing religious formation and education, maintaining shrines and parishes, and conducting pastoral ministry. For more information, visit www.MyFranciscan.org

Resurrection, New Life and Living according to the Spirit

These Three aspects fill our readings this weekend as we enter into the Fifth week in the season of Lent. The purpose of our journey is to experience the new life God is offering us every day and every moment. As Teilhard de Chardin beautifully said, “We are not human beings having a spiritual experience. We are spiritual beings having a human experience.” In the process of our journey we realize we are called to live as Spiritual beings.

When we realize this great truth we become different people whose perspective is attuned to the ways of God. Often we are tempted by the world to think, act and believe that our human life and living is forever. The Lord is reminding us from the prophesy of Ezekiel, clearly and wisely that He will bring us back from human death and give us divine spirit and life. This simply means that God is letting us know all that we have in this world, that is; our life, our flesh and all that we have are gifts and we use them to find our place in heaven to live with God forever.

It is only spirit that can help us in this process. St. Paul in the Second reading today tells us that if we are living in the flesh according to the world and our desires we cannot please God. Paul is urging us to live according to the spirit because the spirit of God dwells in us.

The story of Lazarus is the climax in Jesus’ explaining to all about the power and authority he has over life and how He Himself is the Resurrection and New Life. While we can easily misunderstand that coming back to physical life is Resurrection we forget that being united with God in Spirit is the ultimate reward. Once we realize that gift and attain it, the human body, flesh though as important as we can think of it, becomes only a means in our understanding of Resurrection in Spirit at a higher level.

As we continue our journey in this season of lent, fast approaching the Holy Week and Easter Triduum, may we realize that our lives are powerful and there is more than what we see, feel and understand. Only God can reveal and help us realize this great mystery and Truth. In performing this great miracle, Jesus is prefiguring His own death and Resurrection and invites all of us to follow the same.

Jesus told Martha, “I am the resurrection and the life; whoever believes in me, even if he dies, will live and everyone who lives and believes in me will never die” (Jn11:25-26). If we believe and follow Jesus as, The Way, the Truth and the Life we will be one with him to live for all eternity.

Peace and Blessings,

Fr. Joji Thanugundla

Easter 2014 Remembrance

Remembered by:
(Please print)
My name is Kenneth Turner. I am married to Miranda Turner and we have one son, Austin, who attends St. James School. I was raised and baptized a protestant within the teachings of the First Church of God. In theology, the Church of God leaders were essentially followers of John Wesley and the early Methodists. The use of tobacco, alcoholic beverages and participation in “worldly pleasures,” such as dancing and the theatre were forbidden. I grew up in SW Kansas and lived in four small towns from elementary through high school. My parents divorced when I was 15 years old. The kids I grew up around did not have the “extras” in life. Most of us started working rural jobs when we were around 12 years old in an attempt to help the family income and simply survive.

My high school guidance counselor advised me not to go to college and that I should consider alternate post high school paths. Somehow I ended up at Kansa State University in the 5 year architecture program where a lot of things made sense to me. The further away from SW Kansas I traveled, the more I felt a need to see and experience the world. I married my high school sweetheart Miranda in 1986 while in college. We have lived in New York City, Los Angeles, and moved to Chicago in 1995. We lived in Abu Dhabi, UAE for two years where Austin attended kindergarten and 1st grade. We returned to Arlington Heights in 2008. My pursuit of becoming an architect has taken us on a different life path than most. I am an international architect so my work takes me all over the world. Sometimes I do feel like an immigrant who left his home country in search of a better life for the family. I felt I had to leave the small town in Kansas in order to break a cycle of ignorance and poverty that seemed to repeat itself generation after generation.

Due to the way I was raised, I do not look for reassurance in other people’s words. I look for reassurance in their actions. I have met far too many people in my life who say one thing but their actions communicate something far different. St. James was one of the first communities where I witnessed very positive actions from the people. We first experienced this during my son’s youth basketball and baseball activities while he was in elementary school at Windsor. Austin noticed immediately the kids from St. James were respectful and had kind intentions. This was quite different from the kids at the school he had been attending since the 2nd grade. Miranda and I both noticed the St. James parents at the youth activities were very kind hearted. When Austin completed elementary school, we had a decision to make. Do we continue with the not so positive environment we had experienced during elementary school or try St. James? We decided to send Austin to St. James for middle school. Austin loved his 6th grade year at St. James. Miranda and I were very happy with the positive Christian environment. We had been struggling for some time to find a church and congregation we could grow old with. I think the move to St. James for Austin was a sign for all of us that maybe we had found something more meaningful. The positive experiences we have had with the St James community reinforced the decision to start our RCIA journey.

My name is Austin Turner and I am a seventh grader at St. James School. I have been coming here for two years, and am now just becoming Catholic. I was born in downtown Chicago, where I lived for 4 years. My family had been going to the United Methodist Church, where I was active in the youth programs with a friend I knew. We still didn’t have a real spiritual home when we went there, so we tried different churches. Then, in 6th grade, when I came to St. James, I started having religious classes and school Mass on every Friday. It interested me to learn about God and the life of Jesus, with the people I go to school with. Last summer, my family came together and we made a decision to start the process of becoming Catholic together. My Mom and Dad are going through the RCIA classes, while I am learning through the RCIC with Mrs. Farrell. I am really thankful for all the people who have helped me throughout my journey to become Catholic.
My name is Miranda Turner. My husband, Kenny, and I have been married for over 27 years and we have a son, Austin, who is the 7th grade at St. James School. I was born in Sterling, Colorado and was baptized at the age of six as a Calvary Baptist. My father unfortunately passed away from a work related injury the same year, which left my mother a young widow with three young children to raise. My mother eventually remarried and moved to a small town in Kansas in 1980 as that is where my stepfather had a new job. At that time, we started attending the local First Christian Church, but religion seemed to be a very surface thing for my family, going to church because it was the “right thing to do”. I married my high school sweetheart while we were in college. My husband was from a very religious family, which I really liked since I didn’t have that in my family. After we married, we really didn’t have religion; I guess we were too caught up with our young lives. It definitely came up in conversation throughout the years of our marriage, but we could not really decide what to do about it. I suppose that is also when I learned that we both had very different perspectives and upbringings around religion. Both of us can probably conclude that we didn’t really try to hard to resolve the issue at hand. We moved to Chicago in 1995, and throughout the years, we tried out a variety of churches and never found “the one”. I have felt that I was missing something in my life all these years, which felt stronger after my son was born. We eventually settled on attending a First Methodist church on a regular basis when Austin was in 2nd grade. I really wanted Austin to learn about Jesus and the Bible. My husband did attend occasionally with us. We came to a crossroads for our son when he was completing the 5th grade. We didn’t want him to attend a large middle school and eventually decided on St. James. Now that I think back on this decision, I feel that this was our family’s calling. Throughout our years in Arlington Heights, we have met many families and felt that the ones that appeared to be kind, welcoming, and open were the St. James families. Austin knew several of the kids through sports and felt strongly that it was something he wanted, too. We have felt very welcomed into the St. James family. We love the community feel as it reminds my husband and I of growing up in a small town. I also truly believe that the name James has special meaning in my family. It was my father’s first name and it is the middle name I chose for my son. I feel that we are now completing the missing part of our small family and feel very blessed to be sharing the RCIA experience with my husband and son.

Great Catholic Families Forgive Each Other

While Jesus commands us to forgive “not...seven times, but seventy times seven” (Mt 18:22), forgiving a family can be tough to do even once. We try to teach our kids to take responsibility for their actions, admit when they are wrong and apologize. (I’m sorry I broke your toy, lied about the mess, ate your fries, etc.) But forgiveness requires an act of faith and trust. Parents: when you’re wrong, admit it and seek forgiveness even if that means delivering a sincere apology to a toddler. Your kids will see that forgiveness is not automatic and must be sought in order to be received. Children: Forgiveness isn’t a weapon to be wielded. When your parents or siblings sincerely seek your forgiveness, give it. There is no greater feeling than that of genuine forgiveness wiping a slate clean and allowing a family to start again with one another.

Experience the Sacrament of Reconciliation as a family. Consider attending a communal reconciliation service together.

Welcome the Icon to Arlington Heights

A magnificent replica of this icon is visiting St. James parish as part of an international pilgrimage. (www.hli.org/oceantocean)

Tradition holds that St. Luke, the evangelist, "wrote" the icon on a table in the home of the Holy Family. It is credited with numerous miracles among those whom she visited.

Imagine being able to worship and adore Jesus in the Eucharist and give reverence and love to His Blessed Mother in the presence of this miraculous icon of Our Lady.

In 2012, the icon was blessed in Czestochowa, traveled throughout Russia and Europe, through 24 countries on a 40,000 mile trek. After stopping at Fatima, she arrived in the United States in August, 2013. By the time she arrives at our parish, she will have been in about half of the states and Washington D.C.

“Please pray with us that the Blessed Virgin Mary will use this extraordinary campaign to inspire people of the world to return to faith in God and respect for life and family.”
