Lord teach me how to pray...

As we get closer to the Thanksgiving holiday I am reminded to spend time reflecting on all the things I should be thankful for. As I reflect more on the things I am thankful for it brings to mind the people in my life that I know are struggling right now, friends who have lost someone close to them, or others who are feeling lost and a little uncertain at this point in their life. I am struck by the number of times that I offer to pray for others that are going through a hard time. Then I ask myself how much time am I actually taking out of my daily schedule to pray for those individuals? So often in prayer I focus on myself, on what I need, or the things that members of my family are struggling with. I spend so much time thinking about me. When I do take the time to offer to pray with friends, and they bring up their concerns, or later during my day, it brings me a deeper sense of joy. It helps me to stop focusing on my own problems and to look for ways to love the people around me, even if it’s just through prayer.

I challenge you during the upcoming holiday season and beyond to take some time out of your busy schedule to pray for the individuals in your life that you have promised to pray for. Maybe you can start by staying for a few minutes after Mass, kneeling or bowing your head and giving thanks for all the good the Lord is doing in your life, and spend some time in prayer for those in need.

“If there is any encouragement in Christ, any solace in love, any participation in the Spirit, any compassion and mercy, complete my joy by being of the same mind, with the same love, united in heart, thinking one thing. Do nothing from selfishness or vainglory; rather humbly regard others as more important than yourselves, each looking out not for his own interests, but everyone for those of others.”

As we close the book of Luke on this Solemnity of Our Lord Jesus Christ, King of the Universe, we are exposed to the very human story that unfolded at the crucifixion. Three men, condemned to death, find themselves in very different places: one arrogant and defiant, one remorseful, seeking redemption, and the third, kind, merciful and, yes, majestic. Jesus, as King, opens Paradise to us.

From that hopeful scene, as Advent begins, we move into the Gospel of Matthew. This gospel is considered the most important of the three, as Matthew faithfully recounts Jesus’ public ministry, as well as pointing out His fulfillment of the Messianic prophecies. Considering that as an apostle, Matthew was a contemporary of Jesus, he was anxious to tell this story of redemption as an eyewitness. In his point of view, Christianity not only fulfills the prophecies, but is also a continuation, refinement and expansion of the Judaic tradition.

His gospel ends with a very different, but nonetheless, accurate description of the majesty of the one who wishes to save us – Jesus, the Lord and King!

The Solemnity of Our Lord Jesus Christ, King of the Universe, will be celebrated on the weekend of November 19th & 20th. In observance of this Solemnity, we will be using incense at all of the Masses that weekend. The incense used is hypoallergenic, so there will be a decreased tendency to provoke an allergic reaction or coughing spell. The use of incense has a long history in our Catholic tradition and is a profound sign in worship of prayers ascending to heaven. As we begin liturgy on the Solemnity of Christ the King, may our prayers also rise in praise, honor, and obedience to CHRIST our King.

Open Our Hearts in Welcome:

We share with you an interpretation of this week’s Gospel from the International Catholic Stewardship Council (ICSC).

33rd Sunday in Ordinary Time, Weekend of November 12/13, 2016

“If today’s gospel, Jesus tells his followers there will be plenty of time for them to bear witness to what he taught and did. He helped them understand that the Holy Spirit would guide them and help them persevere in their own stewardship of his gospel even when friends and family betrayed them. Do our friends and neighbors, or classmates and colleagues, know we are disciples of Jesus Christ? How do we bear witness to Christ each day? Do we hide our faith out of fear of rejection? Or are we bold in our witness to others? Are we good stewards of Christ’s gospel?”
Each year the St. James Youth Ministry hosts a brunch for the PADS guests on Thanksgiving Day. The brunch is set up not only to provide a meal, but also a “holiday” like setting in which the guests can interact with members of the St. James community. All PADS guests are invited to arrive at 7 a.m. and stay until 11 a.m. We need parishioners to donate food and supplies for this Thanksgiving event. The following is a list of food/supply items needed:

- French Toast
- Turkey/Gravy
- Jello Molds
- Egg Dishes/Casseroles
- Stuffing
- Vegetables
- Pancakes/Syrup
- Ham
- Cranberry Sauce
- Breakfast Meats
- Sweet Potatoes
- Dinner Rolls/Butter
- Bagels/Cream Cheese
- Mashed Potatoes
- Desserts
- Fruit Trays
- Green Salad/dressing
- Ketchup, Mustard, Mayo

All food must be fully cooked, ready to serve, and brought to the Old School Basement (east side of Arlington Height Rd, south end of parking lot) by 6:45 a.m. on Thanksgiving morning.

We are also greatly in need of new men/women socks, underwear, winter hats and gloves to distribute to our guests.

This day also provides a wonderful opportunity to participate as a volunteer. There are three shifts: 6:30 – 8:30, 8:30 – 10:30, and 10:30 – 11:30 on Thanksgiving morning. If you are not able to sign up for a specific shift, we need volunteers to just show up and interact with the PADS guests by playing games or engaging in conversation. Please go to our sign up genius at: http://www.signupgenius.com/go/10c0549aea82ca1ff2-thanksgiving or email Nancy Moroney at njmoroney@gmail.com to sign up for food as well as volunteering.

In past years the St. James Community has been “over-the-top” generous with donating food for this event…so generous that we have had to bring a sizable amount of left overs to other places. This year we are requesting that you sign up for specific foods and quantities.

Pope: ‘the only solution to the migration crisis is solidarity’

“I was a stranger and you welcomed me, I was naked and you clothed me”. Recently, the Pope, continuing his reflections on the corporal works of mercy, reiterated that Christians recognize the countenance of Christ in those in need of help.

“The work of mercy that relates to strangers is, in our times, more relevant than ever”, he said. “The economic crisis, armed conflicts and climate changes compel many people to emigrate. However, migrations are not a new phenomenon, but belong to the history of humanity. To think they are specific only to our times denotes a lack of historical memory”.

The Bible provides many concrete examples of migration: Abraham, who heeds God’s call to leave his country for another; the people of Israel, who from Egypt, where they were enslaved, walked through the desert for forty years until they reached the land promised by God. Even the Holy Family – Mary, Joseph and the child Jesus – was forced to emigrate to flee the threat of Herod, and remained in Egypt until the monarch’s death.

“The story of humanity is the story of migrations: there is no people at any latitude that has not known the migratory phenomenon”, Francis emphasized. “Throughout the centuries we have witnessed, in this regard, great expressions of solidarity, although social tensions have not been lacking. Today, the context of economic crisis unfortunately favors the emergence of closed attitudes and a lack of acceptance. In some parts of the world, walls and barriers are erected. At times it seems that the silent work of many men and women who, in different ways, make efforts to help and assist refugees and migrants, is obscured by the noise of others who give voice to an instinctive selfishness. But closing up is not a solution; rather, it ends up favoring criminal trafficking. The only way to a solution is that of solidarity. Solidarity with the migrant, solidarity with the stranger”.

“The commitment of Christians in this field is as urgent today as it was in the past. We are all called upon to welcome our brothers and sisters who flee from war, hunger, violence and inhuman conditions of life. Together we are all a great force for supporting those who have lost their homeland, their family, their work and their dignity”.

The Pope concluded his catechesis by exhorting those present not to “fall into the trap of being wrapped up in ourselves, indifferent to the needs of our brothers, and concerned only with our own interests. It is precisely in the measure to which we open ourselves to others that life becomes fruitful, society regains peace and people recover their full dignity”.

New Vatican Instruction, To Rise With Christ, on the Care of Cremated Remains

Recently, the Vatican’s Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith issued an Instruction, To Rise With Christ, on the burial rites involving ashes / cremated remains of the deceased.

In issuing this Instruction, the Congregation noted that “the practice of cremation has notably increased in many countries, but simultaneously new ideas contrary to the Church’s faith have also become widespread.’” Because of this, the Instruction is intended to emphasize the “pastoral reasons for the preference of the burial of the remains of the faithful and to set out norms pertaining to the conservation of ashes in the case of cremation.”

Below are some questions which this Instruction might raise in the minds of Catholics in the Archdiocese:

Why are they changing the Rules on Cremation?

The rules that govern cremation after death for the Catholic Church are actually not changing! Since 1963 the Church has allowed cremation and since the early 1997 it has allowed a funeral liturgy in the presence of cremated remains. Even with these concessions, the Church has always stressed the importance of burying the remains of the faithful, either the body or the cremated remains.

In recent times, the practice of cremation has notably increased in many countries. Simultaneously, new and sometimes puzzling ideas contrary to the Church’s vision of Christian burial have redirected the focus of Christian death (for example, cremated remains being used to make jewelry or other mementos).

Thus, the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith has deemed opportune the publication of a new Instruction, with the intention of underlining, or re-emphasizing the doctrinal and pastoral reasons for the preference of the burial of the remains of the faithful and to set out norms for the conservation of cremated remains.

Is the prohibition of scattering ashes or keeping them in the home new?

No. These are not new prohibitions. What the Instruction is emphasizing is the Church’s ancient tradition of preferring that the bodies of the deceased be buried. Noting that there are reasons one might choose to be cremated, the Church holds to that tradition of burying remains, because of what we believe about the Resurrection – that one day, Christ will return in glory and our bodies and souls will be reunited but will be remade on that last day, sharing the Glory of the Risen Christ.

Because of this, it is inconsistent with this belief to scatter the cremated remains of our deceased (into the air, on the ground, or in bodies of water) or to divide them, or to keep them in homes.

Then what are to be done with the cremated remains of a deceased loved one?

The Instruction notes that “when, for legitimate motives, cremation of the body has been chosen, the ashes of the faithful must be laid to rest in a sacred place, that is, in a cemetery or, in certain cases, in a church or an area, which has been set aside for this purpose…From the earliest times, Christians have desired that the faithful departed become the objects of the Christian community’s prayers and remembrance. Their tombs have become places of prayer, remembrance and reflection. The faithful departed remain part of the Church who believes ‘in the communion of all the faithful of Christ, those who are pilgrims on earth, the dead who are being purified, and the blessed in heaven, all together forming one Church’.”

The Catholic Cemeteries of the Archdiocese of Chicago are always ready to assist families who are dealing with the death of a loved one, and if cremation has been chosen, the Cemeteries are able to provide options for burial or internment of the cremated remains.

Jubilee Year of Mercy

November 13, 2016

Thirty-third Sunday in Ordinary Time

As this Jubilee Year of Mercy comes to an end, Jesus’ first disciples ask what every age seems to wonder about the end of the world: “Teacher, when will this happen? What sign will there be?” (Luke 21:7). But instead of what we’d like to know, Jesus tells us what we need to know. Don’t be terrified by natural disasters, human violence, personal sufferings. Because God’s mercy abounds, all is grace. “It will lead to your giving testimony” (21:13). So Malachi promises “the sun of justice with its healing rays” (Malachi 3:20a); and Jesus describes how we should welcome the end: “Stand erect and raise your heads, because your redemption is at hand” (Gospel Acclamation, Luke 21:28). Rather than worrying about ourselves and the future’s perils, both Jesus’ gospel and Pope Francis’ Jubilee Year of Mercy bid us go forth to spend our lives proclaiming God’s promise of boundless mercy, but also translating God’s mercy into living deeds of unfailing compassion and enduring comfort.
