Where Are the Grapes?

Jesus’ parable is a little different from the one in the first reading. Isaiah has the vineyard under good and faithful care, but still it produces wild grapes. In the Gospel, the vineyard presumably had a good harvest, but the workers refuse to give any of the grapes to the landowner. The question for us is, which parable is about me?

Do I ignore all that God does to help me be a good disciple? Am I too busy to take time to pray or read the Bible? Do I hold onto grudges instead of forgiving and releasing them? Do I only go to church when someone drags me there, or only at Christmas and Easter? (If that were true, I probably would not be reading this bulletin.) Do I decline the invitations to go on a retreat? Am I afraid to share my faith with someone who needs encouragement? If any of these are true, I might be like the vineyard in the first reading, producing no fruit despite all the opportunities God has given me.

Or we may be the other side of the coin. We had our children baptized when they were babies, sent them to the parish school or religion classes. We went to church every Sunday and took them with us. We gave them as good an example as we could, teaching them to love others and be generous with what they have. Yet they grew up and drifted away from the faith. Then we have to remember how patient God is with us, God’s people who don’t always produce the fruits of faith.

The Gospel is a little more difficult to relate to. The tenants in the parable refer to those who mistreated or killed the prophets sent by God or the people who would have Jesus crucified. Yet the kingdom of God is still being proclaimed in spite of them. God is patient with them. Look what happened to Saul, who persecuted many Christians before he became one himself. In our second reading he tells us to follow his example as he follows Christ. Then, he says, the peace of God will be with us, too. (Philippians 4:6–9).

The bell rings at 8:45 and the day begins at St. James School. But on any given day, long before the bell, one can hear students lugging in baritone cases and clicking their drumsticks! A little later, younger students excitedly scurry in to spend time tuning their vocal chops. Early arrivers are entertained with the sounds of any one of four different bands under the vigorous direction of Mrs. Mary McDermott. If singing is your thing, one can enjoy the St. James Bulldog Chorus! The eternally chirpy director, Mrs. Karen Luehr, along with her able assistant, eighth grader, Bridget Dillon, welcome and work with over 50 students. What an invigorating way to start the day!

What is Catholic Social Teaching?

Pope Francis has caught the attention of the world with his many comments on economic justice, care for the poor, the rights of workers, the need to care for creation and the rights of people to live in peace. But these are not new ideas. Informed by the social teaching of the Church, they have been preached by successive popes for over a hundred years.

Learn more at a series of talks at St James
- Tues October 21 – Fr Mark Andrews SJ on the origins of Catholic social teaching in the prophetic tradition and the teachings of Christ
- Tues October 28 – Michael Murphy of Loyola University on the social teachings of the Church
- Mon November 3 – Elizabeth Collier of Dominican University on the application of the Church’s social teaching in daily life and in our communities

A Prophetic Tradition

Archbishop Helder Câmara of Brazil once said: “When I give food to the poor, they call me a saint. And when I ask why they have no food, they call me a Communist.”

Increasing calls for social justice in our Church and in our world are sometimes branded as “political interference,” a distraction from the Church’s essentially “spiritual” mission. However, the call to be a people, belonging to one another and being mutually responsible for one another, especially for the most vulnerable in our midst, is at the heart of God’s covenant with ancient Israel. This was the constant reminder of Israel’s prophets, a call that found its fullest expression in the teachings of Jesus. It is sometimes difficult for us to truly hear and understand this message, given the fearful, individualistic, and consumerist culture in which we live. It is, however, a non-negotiable. Jesus himself tells us that there is no “purely religious” alternative, no other way to “enter into life.” And if we accept his challenge and invitation, we will discover the joy of life together, as the saints in every generation have testified. The discussion on this Tuesday evening will be an attempt to “unpack” that promise.

Coats from the Heart Drive

October 18-19, 2014

Pope Francis has said “... (Immigrants and refugees) are human people; I stress this, who are appealing for solidarity and assistance, who need urgent action, but also and above all, understanding and kindness...”

Did you know that every week, dozens of people, mostly men, are deported from the Chicago area wearing only summer or work clothing, ill-prepared to deal with the cold Chicago winter? We are called to respond with kindness and charity.

The Human Concerns Ministries and our Youth Ministry Program are asking you to please donate men’s small or medium sized coats, jackets and sweatshirts after all the Masses during the weekend of October 18-19, 2014.

There will be volunteers at all the doors of the Church and Parish Center.

Coats are distributed on Friday mornings at the Broadview Detention Center.

Also, please pray for families being separated through deportation.

Please contact Marianne Dilsner, Pastoral Associate, at 224-345-7203 or Sr Faustina, Director of Youth Ministry at 224-345-7214— if you have any questions.

St. James Bereavement Ministry is looking for new Bereavement Ministers

Bereavement ministers assist the family of the deceased with planning the funeral Mass. They are scheduled through the St. James Parish office once the parish has been notified of a death. The bereavement ministers meet one on one with the family and plan step by step the funeral liturgy. If you are searching for a ministry where you can share your talents of loving compassion, great listening skills, support and understanding with those who are grieving, please consider this wonderful ministry. You will have training and will be asked to attend an Archdiocese sponsored bereavement class in the future.

The recent suspension of NFL player Ray Rice, after punching his fiancée (now wife), Janay Palmer, has brought the issue of domestic violence front and center. Although the abuse in the Ray Rice case was clearly physical in nature, it is important to realize that other forms of domestic abuse exist. They include verbal, emotional, financial and sexual abuse. It may be difficult for friends and families of victims to know if indeed their loved one is trapped in an abusive relationship. If you see these signs, someone you know may be in an abusive relationship.

Warning Signs of Emotional/ Psychological/ Verbal Abuse

He* belittles her, finds fault, calls her derogatory names. He accuses her of being unfaithful if she talks to a member of the opposite sex. She refers to herself as stupid or discounts her talents. Her children make disparaging comments to her. She and/or her children seem nervous when he is around. He uses the children to gain control by undermining her authority or threatening to leave and take the children. Since they began dating or got married, you see little of her. She socializes infrequently. She quit work or school. When you do see her, she calls or texts frequently to let him know where she is and what she is doing. He checks up on her. She may be depressed, anxious, or suicidal.

Warning Signs of Financial Abuse

She is taking career paths she would not have chosen on her own, often keeping her from succeeding. She has little money to spend despite having a job. He sabotages her job, making her miss work or calling her constantly. Every penny must be accounted for; she has to ask his permission to make purchases. She has an allowance. She has no personal bank accounts. Her spouse threatens to leave her or deny financial support to levy power and control.

Warning Signs of Physical/ Sexual Abuse

She wears sunglasses or long sleeves when weather conditions don’t warrant such attire. She blames an injury on being a klutz or “tripping over the dog.” Her hairstyle covers her cheeks, brow or an eye. She wears more makeup than she used to. She’s had miscarriages. She may frequently miss work, school, or social occasions without explanation.

Other Possible Signs of Abuse

She is drinking or using drugs when she’s never done so. She had been using and stopped, but now has resumed.

Abusers are very good at controlling and manipulating their victims. People who have been emotionally abused or battered are depressed, drained, scared, ashamed, and confused. They need help to get out, yet they’ve often been isolated from their family and friends. By picking up on the warning signs and offering support, you can help them escape an abusive situation and begin healing.

*Although we acknowledge that both men and women can be victims, for purposes of this article we refer to abusers in the masculine and victims in the feminine form.

This month, Stepping Stones will feature articles targeted to the other “victims” of domestic abuse – family, friends, co-workers and neighbors. Next Week: Why She Stays or Goes Back

Thank you to Cardinal George...

Upon the announcement of the new Archbishop Elect of Chicago, Blase Cupich, one of our parishioners recently offered an excellent suggestion. It was suggested that St. James parishioners might wish to thank Cardinal George for his seventeen years of dedicated leadership and service to our Archdiocese.

We appreciate this thoughtful idea, and agree that others might like to offer their thanks or send a message to the Cardinal.

If anyone would like to send a note or a card of thanks to Francis Cardinal George, we have included his mailing address, below:

Francis Cardinal George, O.M.I.
Archbishop of Chicago
P.O. Box 1979
Chicago, IL  606090-1979

We ask you to continue to keep Cardinal George in your prayers as he undergoes further cancer treatment.

“Who Will Fill These Shoes”

Have you ever considered that God might be calling you to the Priesthood?

Priests in our Archdiocese have faithfully served for many years. As priests reach retirement age or are no longer able to serve, one of the most logical questions is "Who Will Fill These Shoes?"

In the near future, parish priests in our Archdiocese will be accompanying young men between the ages of sixteen and thirty-five to a day of prayer, to meet and speak with seminarians from Mundelein and St. Joseph Seminaries, gather for Mass with Cardinal George, and enjoy lunch together. This event will take place on Friday, November 28th, beginning at 10:00am, at Mundelein Seminary.

Please prayerfully consider whether Our Lord is calling you to “Fill the Shoes” of one who has spent his life in service to the people of our Archdiocese.

If you are interested in attending the event on November 28th, please contact Fr. Gilbert Mashurano at the Parish Office, 224-345-7202.

Have You Read Exodus Trekkers Lately? Its Now Being Read in Nine Countries!

One good and inspiring way to get the “inside story” on your fellow St. James parishioners is to read an Exodus Trekkers interview on our blog. A new series began October 1st with a fascinating interview with our new Sister Faustina.

According to statistics tallied by Google, this St. James blog, now in its fourth year, is being read in Russia, Germany, Latvia, France, the United Kingdom, Ukraine, Turkey, Poland, and India. So far, a total of 62,101 people have “visited” it.

Nearly all of the 33 interviews (including one book-length post) have been about St. James members who have talked candidly about how they have dealt successfully with life challenges—some of them painful—as they trek closer to their eternal home.

Exodus Trekkers is written by St. James parishioner Bob Schwarz and can be read at: http://exodustrekkers.blogspot.com or by going to the St. James website and following the prompts to “Exodus Trekkers.”

Our Charity

Our Charity for the month of October is the 2014 World Mission Appeal. The theme this year is “I Will Build My Church” (Matthew 16:18). We will reach out to the world’s youngest Catholic Church—just two decades old—the Church in Mongolia, as well as other local churches throughout the Missions, this year. Through the work of these churches, and their witness to Christ, the poor receive practical help and experience God’s love and mercy, His hope and peace.

Please keep the Missions in your prayers this month, and may all those they serve receive the joy of the Lord through your most generous donations. We thank you!
