The Mass – The Mission

For the past few weeks, we’ve been on a quest to probe more deeply into the mystery of the Eucharist. As we near the end of this first quest in this fifth article, we might well discuss another “quest” or “journey” that we regularly take: the Eucharistic liturgy or, put simply, the Mass.

The Mass itself cannot be reduced to one single moment of importance—be it the Gospel, the homily, the consecration of the bread and wine, or whatever. The Mass in a sense is cumulative: each of its parts depends on the parts that preceded. Remember the account of the journey to Emmaus? If not, dust off your Bible and start reading from Luke 24:13. One of the crucial points of that account is that the disciples’ eyes were opened not simply because they were breaking bread but because first the scriptures were broken open for them by the risen Jesus.

From the moment we are re-united as a community of the New Covenant (when Mass begins), we embark on an ever-increasing awareness of our need for God (Lord, have mercy!), and we give thanks for having received God’s mercy (Glory to God!). We look to the history of salvation (attested to in the readings) to discern how God continues to act for us (the homily—at least in theory). More conscious of the offer of salvation and hopefully more eager to receive it, we offer ourselves for and with others (petitions, bringing forth of the gifts). In faith, we know that receiving the one true and living sacrifice (the crucified and risen Christ present in the Eucharist) can heal our own weaknesses and strengthen us to offer ourselves more completely to God and neighbor (Go in peace, glorifying the Lord by your life!).

This journey, of course, is rooted in the Old Covenant. Remember the parallel to the Emmaus account in the Old Testament? If not, get that Bible again and open to Exodus 24. There the people on their journey to the Land of Promise listen to Moses relate all the words of the Lord (a liturgy of the word), to which they give their assent (an Amen). Then they sacrifice animals and are sprinkled (yes, sprinkled) with the blood of the covenant, signifying that they share in God-given life. Finally, the people “see God” (!) and eat and drink (Ex 24:11) in a communion liturgy.

It’s no accident that the Second Vatican Council saw the Eucharistic liturgy as the act of renewing the New Covenant to which we belong by our baptism. By renewing the covenant, we ourselves are set on fire by the Lord: what used to happen to the animals in a literal way in the Old Covenant (see Ex 24:5) now happens to us Christians in a deeper, spiritual way. This, I think, is why Luke has the Emmaus crowd remarking, “Were not our hearts burning…?” (Lk 24:32).

But we’re not set on fire only to be placed under a bed or a bushel basket (Lk 8:16; 11:33). We’re set on fire to illumine the world by testifying to what the Word has done for us and what the Word can do for those who have not yet accepted him. Hence, the liturgy reaches a climax in our being sent back down the mountain. Interestingly, the original Latin dismissal, “Ite, missa est,” could be translated not only as “Go, the Mass is ended,” but also as “Go, (the Church) has been sent,” or “Go, (the Eucharist) has been sent.” ‘Missa,’ where we get ‘Mass,’ means ‘sent.’

And so, we must go. But we’re not sent away never to return. We’re sent away to proclaim and come back to be cleansed, formed, nourished, and sent yet again. In other words, to cite a familiar phrase, the Eucharist is the “source and summit of the Christian life.”

The John Paul II Pilgrimage Monstrance Visiting St. James in Awareness of Vocations to the Priesthood, Religious, Consecrated Life, and Diaconate

The visiting monstrance is a visible tool of evangelization used by Pope John Paul II Eucharistic Adoration Association to enhance devotion to the Eucharist throughout the Archdiocese of Chicago. This beautiful monstrance was taken to Rome and Blessed by Pope John Paul II on March 2, 2005, from his room at Gemelli Hospital. He consecrated the vessel specifically to promote Eucharistic Adoration, prayer for priests, and vocations. It was among the final items to receive papal blessing by Pope John Paul II, who was called by our Lord to his final rest one month later on April 2, 2005.

Thank you to the parishioners who surprised us with donations to help pay for the new rectory boiler that was shown in the bulletin last month.

A “Keep the Priests Warm” fund has been created for anyone interested in helping pay for that unexpected expense, which will cost roughly $9000.

We appreciate your consideration of the residents and guests of the rectory as the nights start to cool down!

Additionally, you have probably noticed that for the first time since 1969 the landscaping on the west side campus that faces Arlington Heights Road is receiving a long-awaited face lift. There is a new slab walkway to the parish center doors that replaced the previous tripping hazard/crumbling walkway. Signage around the school from the old school building will be installed in time. The cost of this full project is $48,000.

As you can see, your weekly contributions are needed and sincerely appreciated. If you have not yet done so, please go online to faith.direct/IL859 to sign up for eGiving. Faith Direct is easy and will save you time.

Thank you for your continuous support of St. James Parish!

SAINT JAMES SUPPORTS CULTURAL ARTS

At Saint James we support artistic endeavors as a key element in education, as well as exposure to diversity, technology, science, and other important social and educational programs. Through school assemblies we find a way to highlight these aspects of a well-rounded education. Students nurture the important values including team building skills and being aware of different cultures and traditions! Recently Saint James welcomed Chris Fascione who Brings Literature to Life. Chris incorporates his acting, mime, juggling and comedic skills to both entertain and lead children into the world of books, promoting literacy and a love of reading.

CALLING ALL KNITTER AND CROCHETERS!

Please help us keep the homeless PADS guests and others warmer this winter, by creating a warm winter scarf. Got some yarn in your stash that might work? Any pattern of about 6 inches wide by 60 inches long will be greatly appreciated. For the fourth year, we are participating in the CHASE THE CHILL program to provide handmade scarves for those in need.

On the weekend of November 23/24 you are invited to tie your scarf around designated trees in front of St James Church.

Homeless PADs guests will select their scarf on Wednesday before Thanksgiving. For more info or a pattern, please check out www.chasethechill.com or connect with Kathy at kk_ek@msn.com or at 847-255-8899.

Thank YOU!

Mass for This Dad Is An Armful

You'll see this father every morning at our St. James mass with two-year-old Madeleine on his left shoulder and four-year-old Gianna on the other shoulder. Do Dad's shoulders ever get sore, tired? "Yes they do," says Stephen Brehm. "But honestly, this may sound funny but there are moments when I feel that God is helping me carry them, especially after the Eucharist, when they feel so light. When Mom—Jenny—isn't with this threesome, she's taking care of eight-week old son Lucas in the Brehm's nearby home. She's a 33-year-old speech therapist and a St. James retreat volunteer; Stephen is a data analyst for a pharmacy benefit company.

Night and Day He is There (by Mother Teresa)

“If you really want to grow in love, come back to the Eucharist, come back to that Adoration. Our hours of adoration will be special hours of reparation for sins and intercession for the needs of the whole world, exposing sick and suffering humanity to the healing, sustaining and transforming rays of Jesus, radiating from the Eucharist.

Each one of us is a coworker of Christ—we must labor hard to carry Him to the hearts where He has not yet been known and loved ... But, unless we have Jesus, we cannot give Him; that is why we need the Eucharist. Spend as much time as possible in front of the Blessed Sacrament and He will fill you with His strength and His power.

Perpetual adoration is the most beautiful thing you could ever think of doing. People are hungry for God. Imagine for a moment that we are living in Jesus’ time and He has invited us to visit with Him and spend some quiet time getting to know Him better. Being aware who He was, we would be humbled and honored by such an invitation. The good news is that Jesus is here with us TODAY—body, blood, soul and divinity—in the Holy Eucharist. Although Jesus comes to us under the appearance of bread and wine, His presence is as real to us NOW as He was flesh-and-blood-real to His disciples when He walked this earth. He can perform miracles, heal us, teach us, and love us. We can talk to Him and He can speak to us through His Word and through the Holy Spirit who lives in us through our baptism and confirmation.

Jesus has made Himself the Bread of Life to give us life. Night and day, He is there.” (St. Teresa of Calcutta)
