A Message from our Director of Music & Liturgy

October 26, 2019

There’s a spot for you right in the front!
Matthew 19:14 Jesus said, “Let the children come to me, and do not prevent them; for the kingdom of heaven belongs to such as these.”

Coming to Mass for my family has sometimes been adventure. We have four kids all under the age of 10 and like their Musician Parents, our kids like to make and can make quite a bit of sound. It can be hard to sometimes control the rambunctious spirits and energy that flows within a typical kid. I will fully admit that it can make the experience of taking your kids to church, not the most enjoyable experience or satisfy and fulfill the spiritual needs of a parent.

We bring our kids out of our want and desire to raise them up in the faith and God-willing, inspire a long-life relationship with God and His Church. We want them to experience the mysteries that are present in the Eucharist and embedded within the scriptures, homilies, and music that we hear. But sometimes getting your child focused on what is happening during Mass can seem like trying to herd cats or play ping-pong without a paddle. It’s really hard and feels almost impossible at times… But that doesn’t mean that we shouldn’t still strive to take them to Mass and offer that time in prayer as a family along with our parish community.

Sometimes the best thing in this sort of situation is to “flip-the-script” and change the perspective. Like many parents, we would sit our kids in the back and keep them as far away as possible as to not upset anyone and allow us to step out of Church if we needed a quick get-away. But we found that the further back we sat, the more disengaged and bored our kids became. Maybe it was time to change mass times? Maybe we should find a parish that had a cry room? What if we moved them to the front, would it be any different? What do we do?

We decided to move our kids to the front, closer to the Altar, and found that they actually focused more and began to absorb more of what was happening at mass. I’m not telling you that we found the key for how to have your kids behave at Mass —my kids are still plenty rambunctious! I’m just telling you that we have this opportunity to have “teachable moments” when we bring our kids closer to the Altar and closer to Jesus. If someone is closer and able to see what’s going on, they will naturally be more interested and hopefully begin to ask those questions that will take us on that deeper path towards knowing the Truth.

At the St. James School Mass on Wednesday’s, we have all our younger grades, Kindergartners through Second Graders, sitting in the front pews and their participation level is absolutely jaw-dropping. They listen during the readings and homilies, they sit quietly, and they fully participate in the songs and prayers. The sound of children’s voices singing that fill that church is truly awe-inspiring. Because they can see everything that’s happening, they are able to understand their role in the greatest prayer that we can offer as a community.

It’s a difficult job to take your kids to church, trust me I know, but it’s something we’re tasked with as parents who believe in God’s everlasting love. When your kid looks up at you and smiles while they hold your hand during the Our Father… that’s how you know you’re doing the right thing. The smile makes it all worth-while. So I encourage parents to continue to bring those kids to mass and sit them right up in front to truly take in those mysteries and learn about who they are and how God truly loves us all.

May God continue to Bless all families and this Parish Family.

Peace,

Tam Conseur

From the Adoration Chapel

Parishioner, Bill Dearhammer, wrote to us about what he is doing during his weekly hour in the adoration chapel. He has a very good point about what might seem obvious but is an excellent approach to having a fruitful hour in the chapel. How many of us are reading the Bible on anything near a regular basis? Perhaps finding and studying the 3 readings from every Sunday’s Mass would be a good entry point for many of us to pick up a Bible and spend time with the words of God while in the presence of His Son. Bibles are available in the new bookcase in the chapel.

“Over the years, non-Catholics have commented to me in a negative way that most Catholics have never read the Bible. I can’t speak for the rest of us, but I have to admit I am one of those Catholics.

I am now a participant in the Eucharistic Adoration opportunity at St. James and have found this to be a perfect place and time to read His Book. One full hour each week with no phones, television or other disturbances. Last Saturday, I reached the chapters in Genesis from which “Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat” was taken.

I look forward to the coming weeks.”  --Bill Dearhammer

To sign up for a weekly hour in the chapel, please email us at Adoration@stjamesah.org or fill out one of the sign-up sheets in the chapel and place it in the registration box which is also in the chapel bookcase... right next to the Bibles! You can also send us your own testimonial if you would like to share your experience in the chapel.

RELATIONSHIP WITH GOD
Today’s readings invite us into prayer, into relationship with God. Because relationships feel more natural when we know one another well, Sirach encourages us to know God better. In his wisdom, Sirach tells us what God is like: fair, open-minded, compassionate, and attentive. “The Lord will not delay,” he says. Knowing that God’s help comes right on time, whenever we need it, calms our hearts and helps us trust the Lord. In his second Letter to Timothy, Saint Paul demonstrates his own trust in God. Despite the grueling struggles Saint Paul has faced because of his Christian faith, he prays the Lord for rescuing him time and again. Today’s Gospel draws us close to Jesus too, revealing his special love for the poor and humble. As Jesus tells his parable about the prayer habits of a Pharisee and a tax collector, our hearts long to become as gentle as Christ’s.
