ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

Pope Francis has declared that "the Third Sunday in Ordinary Time is to be devoted to the celebration, study, and dissemination of the word of God. ... A day devoted to the Bible should not be seen as a yearly event but rather a year-long event, for we urgently need to grow in our knowledge and love of the Scriptures and of the risen Lord, who continues to speak his word and to break bread in the community of believers."

THIRD SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

A MESSAGE FROM...

Among the many ridiculous images floating around the internet is the above one that distorts Scripture and the Church's Eucharistic theology. If only the artist of this image had bothered to understand more acutely the eleventh-century Eucharistic controversies, he or she could have avoided resorting to such laughable, obtuse theology!

Yes, that's right. If we reach back nearly a millennium, we see a lot of discussion as to how Christ was present in the Eucharist. One camp thought (wrongly) that the Eucharist was merely a sign without the real presence. The other camp — headed by reactionary bishops(!) — drew up a response that (wrongly) insisted that the physical body of Jesus was being broken by the priest's hands and chewed by the teeth of the faithful.

Thankfully, there prevailed a third (correct) position that acknowledged both Christ's mysterious real presence without going so far as to say we're chewing or breaking (or trampling upon) his physical body. This position recognized that Christ is sacramentally present in the Eucharist.

Now, this silly image is being circulated as justification for never receiving the Eucharist in the hand. As such, it is actually trampling on the word of God.

Jesus's command to take and eat, repeated at every Mass, is just that. The verb for take, the Greek command labete, means take/grab/seize. The same verb is used many times elsewhere in the Gospels, notably at the (eucharistic) scene of the multiplication of loaves. There Jesus is taking the loaves. It would be hard to believe that Jesus is sticking his tongue out to receive five loaves and then bless, break, and give them.

Some Catholics with a following on the internet (including some reactionary bishops!) have taken it upon themselves to pontificate (wrongly) that the only reverent way to receive communion is on the tongue since it is the gesture of "maximum adoration." Not only does this fly in the face of the command of Jesus, but it is actually less traditional than receiving in the hand—by about 800 years. Add in the high transmissibility of a virus like Covid and the gesture can easily move from "adoration" to apathy toward neighbor, hardly in line with the main goal of the Eucharist, which is to build up the body of Christ.

Of course, we should have reverence for the sacrament we receive. This means not throwing it down in contempt or receiving it callously, without preparation of heart and mind, etc. Intending those things would indeed be sacrilege.

But let's not be foolishly rehashing the Eucharistic controversies of a thousand years ago. Rather, with the help of the Spirit, let's discern more keenly what Jesus has passed on in a living way so that we might take and receive it more faithfully and fruitfully.

Fr. Ryan

ARCHDIOCESE OF CHICAGO

Kolbe House Jail Ministry

Dear Parishioners of St. James,

We at Kolbe House want to pass along the enthusiastic, heart-felt thanks that we received from all who were served by your Mercy Box program. Christmas can be such a hard time for families and individuals with loved ones who are in prison, who have been recently released from incarceration, or who have been victims of violence. By providing boxes of food, we offer them a moment of relief and a spark of hope that carries into the New Year. We thank you for your generosity and care towards your neighbors.

We also invite you to learn more about Kolbe House and consider volunteering with us. As the Archdiocesan Jail Ministry, we serve individuals who are detained in Cook County Jail, families with loved ones who are incarcerated, and men and women as they are released from prison and getting started on building a new life.

We are currently seeking adult volunteers for our Re-Entry and In-Jail ministries.

Ideal volunteers are compassionate towards the incarcerated and can commit to a consistent weekly time slot beginning in spring, summer or fall of this year. Training for both ministries is provided. If you are interested, please contact Cristian Garcia at cgarcia@kolbehouseministry.org, or submit a volunteer application on our website at www.kolbehouseministry.org.

We are so grateful that you all have chosen Kolbe House to partner with and look forward to more ways that we can welcome you into our mission:

A ministry of the Catholic Church, Kolbe House responds to the gospel mandate "I was in prison and you visited me" by fostering hope, healing and faith in God's merciful love among all those affected by crime and incarceration.

Thank you for being a part of this great mission. Wishing you peace in the New Year,

MaryClare Birmingham
Executive Director, Kolbe House

MINISTRY SPOTLIGHT

TO THE PARENTS OF OUR YOUNG CHILDREN, MAY WE SUGGEST...

Relax! God put the wiggle in children; don't feel you have to suppress it in God's house.
All are welcome!

Sit toward the front where it is easier for your little ones to see and hear what's going on at the altar. They tire of seeing the backs of other's heads.

Quietly explain the parts of the Mass and actions of the priests, altar servers, musicians, etc...
Sing the hymns, pray and voice the responses. Children learn liturgical behavior by copying you.

If you have to leave Mass with your child, feel free to do so, but please come back. As Jesus said, "Let the children come to me."

Remember the way we welcome children in church directly affects the way they respond to the church, to God and to one another.

Let them know that they are to be reverent in this house of worship.

TO THE MEMBERS OF OUR PARISH ...

The presence of children is a gift to the church and they are a reminder that our parish is growing! Please welcome our children and give a smile of encouragement to their parents.
