ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

Prayer to the Holy Family

Jesus, Mary and Joseph,
in you we contemplate
the splendour of true love,
to you we turn with trust.

Holy Family of Nazareth,
grant that our families too
may be places of communion and prayer, authentic schools of the Gospel and small domestic Churches.

Holy Family of Nazareth,
may families never again
experience violence, rejection and division:
may all who have been hurt or scandalized find ready comfort and healing.

Jesus, Mary and Joseph,
graciously hear our prayer.

Pope Francis

THE FEAST OF THE HOLY FAMILY

A MESSAGE FROM...

Today we celebrate the Feast of the Holy Family. Typically, we think in terms of Jesus, Mary and Joseph as our holy family. Today, though, I would like to change this idea a bit and rename this feast as “The Holiness of Families.” Certainly, our model remains the same but for a little while let us focus inwardly on our own families.

In our nation, we celebrate many holidays...so why not celebrate the Holiness of Families. This aspect of family allows us to view each other in a different way. For example, during the past few weeks, there have been many references in the news media with emphasis for family celebrations to take on a different dimension. The closeness of families celebrating, coupled with the separation of family members serving our nation in the military, and our focus on Covid19 have brought into sharper focus the need that families have to be together.

I am not referring to a secular celebration, but rather recognition that family life is a life filled with holiness if we allow it to happen. This, in itself, presents a dilemma. I refer specifically to some who may feel awkward or ill-prepared in recognizing the holiness of their family. After all, we live with each other and we see each other's imperfections. The other day, I was in a long line at a department store.

He bent over to try to calm the child. As he stood up our eyes met...and he immediately explained his behavior. “Just turned two you know, the ‘terrible’ twos.” Quickly, I remarked, “Well I have it on good authority that the terrible two lasts from 2 to 22! You have a long way to go.” My comment seemed to invite conversation. He said he had spent the entire day after Christmas assembling gifts that his children received. He said, “Thank goodness for the enclosed instructions. Without them, I'd probably still be working on them.” Perhaps families should come with instructions too!

I believe this celebration does come with instructions. The first is from the readings we just heard, and the second from an unlikely source, but one that includes pictures.

Our readings from the Book of Sirach and St. Paul's letter are filled with directions. Sirach is a teacher and instructs his students on God's commandment to honor their parents. He adds, this lesson is not limited to honoring them only when it is convenient, but it is also inclusive when they can no longer take care of themselves.

In Paul's letter, his instructions initially are geared more for the newly baptized, but they also speak to us in a fresh and vibrant way. He tells us, "Put on as God's chosen ones, holy and beloved, heartfelt compassion, kindness, humility, gentleness and patience...bearing with one another and forgiving one another as the Lord has forgiven you...so you must also do."

He invites us to think in terms of living and giving in love, not of receiving. He urges us to surrender our hearts to that peace that comes from Christ and dedicate ourselves to thankfulness. And whatever you do, in word or deed, do everything in the name of the Lord Jesus." Paul even extends his instructions by reminding all members of the family to love and respect each other. His instructions are not simple. They provide for each member of the family an element of responsibility. If we take them seriously we realize that we are not alone. We are blessed by the strength of our families; by the faithfulness of our parish community; and we are blessed to have a model of a prayerful family, Holy Family to pattern our lives.

These are very powerful directions! The most unlikely source we have at our disposal is something that we all have at our fingertips but not aware of its significance.

I am referring to a type of prayer book. I would be willing to suggest that everyone has a variation of this book in your homes....it is a photo album. Looking at photographs is a way of seeing family in a completely different aspect. It is not only enjoyable to relive and remember the people, places and events that are captured for all time, but also, I find myself becoming aware of the fact that God is present in the pictures. God's presence is with our eyes of faith, but HIS presence is real, nonetheless. In addition, this same faith tells me God is present with me. As well, as I look and reminisce with the photos. I invite you all to try this approach to prayer as this method of physically seeing the holiness of your family by viewing their pictures. You see, the Sunday after Christmas is a celebration of family - that irreplaceable element of society that gives life. It nurtures and supports us through life's journeys. Families are the first and best places for the love of God to come alive. God is present in the love, acceptance and forgiveness we offer our families in the safety net we call family.

The Holy Family of Jesus, Mary and Joseph in their struggles, fears and anguish, revealed in today's Gospel, are a model for our own families that the light of God shines in our midst as we confront the same tensions and crisis in our lives. As we come to receive the Eucharist today, let us be thankful for the gift of families and realize that we can all be a holy family. All we need to do is follow the instructions.

FORMING DISCIPLES

As my faith and relationship with God continued to grow through mens small group and weekly inspirational homilies, I continue to be introduced and reinforce my Catholic Traditions, biblical teachings, and provided encouragement for me to uncover what it means to be a person of faith, a leader for my family, and a Catholic disciple that has confidence to encourage others to pursue and deepen their faith.
