JULY 11
2021

FIFTEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

A MESSAGE FROM...

For me, moving is an opportunity to scale down, to shed some of the physical baggage I carry around with me. Preparing to move to St. James, I gave four hefty bags of clothing to St. Vincent de Paul, and donated about 200 books to a student library at the seminary.

In Mark's Gospel, which we hear at mass this Sunday, Jesus sends the Twelve out on mission, instructing them to "take nothing for their journey except a staff; no bread, no bag, no money in their belts." In other words, they are to rely completely on God.

Absolute trust in God is a mark of a Christian disciple. Letting go of our own means and our own plans is not easy, but the Lord gives us the promise that he will always be with us. I remember a sermon I heard many years ago in which the priest commented that he never saw a hearse pulling a U Haul trailer to the cemetery!

The disciples were sent out with the authority of Jesus to cast out demons and call people to repentance and heal the sick. The Lord worked powerfully through them. He works through us as well, in the power of our Baptism and Confirmation.

Let's be on our mission, relying solely on the Lord's grace.

Racism and the Criminal Justice System

Seventh in a series of nine USCCB backgrounders on racism and systemic racism, wealth, education, employment, housing, migration, criminal justice, the Native American experience, and voting. Combatting Racism - Parish Resources | USCCB

Racism manifests itself in sinful individual actions, which contribute to structures of sin that perpetuate division and inequality, as has been seen throughout our nation's history and into the present. One such structure in need of conversion is the criminal justice system. Over the past four decades, there has been a 500% increase in the number of people incarcerated in the U.S., which now totals roughly 2.2 million. Contributing factors to this increase include mandatory minimum sentences, harsher sentences for non-violent drug offenses, "three-strikes" laws, and changes in policing. The United States now has the highest rate of incarceration in the world. With 5% of the world's population, the United States houses roughly 25% of the world's prisoners. Currently, African Americans and Hispanics/Latinos make up 56% of prisoners but are only 28% of the U.S. population. Although "color blind" on the surface, racial disparities appear in every stage of the criminal justice system, which has built the resulting prison and jail population over decades.

- Whites and African Americans engage in drug use at similar rates, but African Americans are much more likely to be arrested for it.
- Although the gap among incarceration rates of different races has narrowed somewhat in recent years, African Americans are still incarcerated at more than five times the rate of whites.
- African Americans are more likely to experience traffic stops, searches, and juvenile arrests, and receive harsher sentences and greater length of sentencing.
- Recent headlines have also raised questions about treatment by law enforcement of persons of color, with studies pointing to racial disparities in use of non-lethal force against African Americans and Hispanics.

MINISTRY SPOTLIGHT

The new St. James Grief Support Ministry is about addressing your grief.

Are you struggling with a loss?

Having a hard time coping?

Join parishioners like yourself for conversation and sharing.

Contact: griefsupport@stjamesah.org for more details.

"I was lost.
My brain just wasn't working anymore and I was scared. I didn't know where to go for help.

My family loved me and they were at a loss as to what to do.

How could they know how to help me when I couldn't even identify or possibly explain what was going on myself?"

Do you have a family member struggling with anxiety, depression or another mental health condition?
Are you struggling to understand what they are going through and how to help or cope?

Our Mental Health Ministry has invited NAMI, the National Alliance on Mental Illness to share Family & Friends, a free mental health educational seminar on Thursday, July 22nd from 7-9pm via zoom.

Topics covered include: understanding diagnoses, treatment, communication tips, crisis management strategies and so much more.
