SIXTH SUNDAY OF EASTER

A MESSAGE FROM...

Last Saturday, we celebrated several First Communion Masses at St. James! 132 children received Jesus in the Eucharist for the first time. Each Mass was so beautiful and in many ways, the day rounded out a year that was challenging but had many miracles happen along the way.

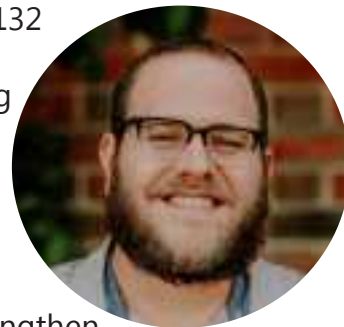

We had to find a way in the midst of this pandemic to continue to form our young people and provide them with an opportunity to encounter Christ and get ready to receive him in the Eucharist. God worked through our families here at St. James and he showed up each and every week. We heard from countless families how nice it was for them to pray with and strengthen their own faith with their children. We had Encounter Nights where families came together to worship Jesus in the Eucharist during adoration. We had virtual RE nights where catechists continued to form our young children while providing them with some laughs along the way.

None of this would have been possible if not for the amazing work of our families. Moms and dads and grandparents that prioritized bringing their children closer to God. Thank you for all that you did this year and for all that you continue to do. Thank you for your patience throughout the year. Thank you for making Saturday such a special day for your children.

St. Pope Pius X once said that the "Eucharist is the shortest and safest way to Heaven." Father Ryan talked about how amazing it is that Saturday was the first of more than maybe 5,000+ communions. It is such a gift that we get to receive our Lord in the Eucharist and then we are sent out to share him with the world. Our staff here at St. James and all of our amazing volunteers will do everything we can to continue to walk with our families on their journey. Please do not hesitate to reach out if there is anything we can do to continue to walk with you.

In His Name,

Jonathan Blevins

Gospel Reflection for Kids

May 9 – Sixth Sunday of Easter

John 15:9-17:

Today's Gospel from John is a challenge. Jesus tells us his basic commandment: "Love one another as I have loved you." Jesus calls us friends, reminding us that friends want only what is best for the other person.

MINISTRY SPOTLIGHT

Meeting Mental Health With Grace

Happy Mothers Day

As moms, the focus is often on nurturing and carrying for others. Self care is hard to prioritize or even think about. Left unchecked, anxiety, depression, feelings of overwhelming stress can set in.

You can't pour from an empty cup.

Here are a few simple tips to take care of you.

Are you overcommitted? Need a break?

Even Jesus set boundaries and took care of his personal needs through retreating from the crowds to recharge; doing lots of walking; not rushing around to get everything done; and turning outcomes over to God.

Have a support team

Who do you reach out to when you need a laugh? Someone safe to vent with? A problem solver? Identify these people, and write them down so you have them at your finger tips.

Trust in Him - the compass in the storm

There will be more storms. We'll get turned around. However, just like a trusty compass, God is unaltered by the changing winds. He will always be a steady source of peace. We can place our hope in the Provider instead of the provisions themselves.

Please CLICK HERE to learn more about taking care of you so you can take care of those you love.
