A MESSAGE FROM...

Over the past few weeks, I've had the pleasure of spending time with some of our St. James School students for a different kind of "distance learning." While remaining at a social distance, we traveled a great cosmic distance, all the way back to the creation of the cosmos itself, some 13,800,000,000 years ago. In case you're bad at counting zeros, that's 13.8 billion years ago. We passed by stars and galaxies that remain inaccessible to us even if we were to travel at the speed of light.

In traversing the length of the parking lot and symbolically unrolling time and space on a long ribbon, we came to appreciate just how tiny we are in the masterful plan of creation. Most of time has been humanity-less! We appeared very late in the grand scheme of things—the last few inches of the long ribbon. In other words, we are but specks of dust in this vast cosmos of ours.

And yet, we specks are loved infinitely by the one who is infinite. What a mystery! In the awesome unfolding of the universe ordered by God, every single human being reveals God's love in a unique and unrepeatable way. Therein lies the fact that each human person has an inestimable, transcendent dignity.

No single human person—born or unborn, incapable or capable, man or woman, white or black—can ever be stripped of this dignity given by the Creator. Every single human person, no matter how small on the scale of the cosmos, actually transcends the limits of this created world because every single human person without exception is invited into the life of Father, Son, and Spirit. Hence, we're created in the image and likeness of the Triune God, and we're called to grow into the fullness of this image and likeness.

The dignity of the human person is the foundation of all Catholic Social Teaching. Without it, nothing else stands. Nevertheless, myriads of policies, decisions, and mindsets continue to threaten human dignity: abortion, capital punishment, destruction of human embryos, euthanasia (ironically masquerading as "death with dignity"), genocide, human cloning, human trafficking, racism (conscious and unconscious), torture, war, or violence of any other form with any kind of weapon.

Our shared human dignity is what provides the basis for human rights, and not the other way around. No "right" is a real right if it is an affront to human dignity. And with real rights come real responsibilities to self and others. To emphasize an individual right without acknowledge its corresponding responsibility is an utter contradiction. A quick example: employers may have a right to hire whom they will, but they have a duty to pay a fair wage for fair work. Or, voters may have the right to vote, but they have the duty to consider the interests of society, not merely their individual interests.

This is why Catholic Social Teaching builds from the dignity of the human person its teaching on the common good. The common good is not just a sum of our individual goods or preferences. In other words, we can't say something like "as long as each individual is doing whatever makes him/her happy, we've achieved the common good." No. The common good should be likened to acting as one body composed of many people. Not every person can go off selfishly in his/her own direction. If the common good is to be realized, each has to be working for the good of the whole body, which often enough means putting what benefits us personally after what benefits the whole body.

Working toward the common good seems to be especially challenging because it takes real cooperation. Think of some of the most "social" of issues: care for our common home, economic life and globalization, public health, etc. Advancing toward the common good requires a common effort. This is why Catholic Social Teaching recognizes the legitimate authority of the State to help organize society in such a way that everyone can contribute to the common good. We can't do it as mere individuals. But because we worship a God who is a communion—Father, Son, Spirit—we know we can do it as a communion of persons, acting as a body, rooted in the belief that everyone has the same transcendent dignity and same transcendent goal.

Are our voting patterns and advocacy efforts rooted in supporting the immeasurable dignity of the human person? Are they shaped by the common good and not merely special or partisan interests? If they aren't, we've got some re-thinking to do if we want to participate in the public arena with any integrity.

St. James Ministers of Care
Training Event
Wednesday, October 21 at 1:00pm
Laramie Room

Join us on October 21st at 1:00pm in the Laramie Room for our annual Ministers of Care training event. We welcome those who want to begin or complete their St. James Minister of Care training. The Archdiocese asks that all Ministers of Care stay updated on new protocols, so we ask all of our current Ministers of Care attend.

St. James Ministers of Care are available to bring the Holy Eucharist, pray, and to visit with parishioners who are sick, injured, or unable to leave their homes. These visits are a wonderful opportunity for those unable to attend Mass to share in the Eucharist and to stay connected with their St. James family. Home, hospital, and care facility visitation is offered. This will be a condensed course that will touch on all of the topics needed for you to serve as a Minister of Care once these residences are re-opened. This abbreviated program will also be live-streamed and later posted on the St. James website.

Contact our Director of Liturgy, Tam Conseur at tconseur@stjamesah.org, with questions and to sign up for the training. Once facilities are to re-open, there will be a need for more ministers. We hope you will consider preparing to be a part of this beautiful ministry.

MINISTRY SPOTLIGHT

PARISH PASTORAL COUNCIL UPDATE

As a mission-driven ministry, we are exploring new ways to “Be Disciples of Christ and Make Disciples of Christ.” Starting later this month and through December, we will be reading (and re-reading) Divine Renovation: Bringing Your Parish from Maintenance to Mission, by Fr.

James Mallon. Our experience with COVID-19 has reinforced the importance of our mission and continuing the great work St. James has been doing to ignite our faith.

With Fr. Matt's upcoming departure, a new pastor and Renew My Church on the horizon, we are embracing tools to continue to carry out St. James' vision: that each member of our community encounters the fire of God's love; then with hearts burning brightly, shares that love with others. Please join us in reading this book.

OCTOBER IS DOMESTIC VIOLENCE AWARENESS MONTH

Cycle of Abuse

This graphic portrays the pattern played out in an abusive relationship. Described by different authors and depicted in varying forms, the sequence is marked by tension, a major event and calm. Time passes. Pressure between partners mounts. She tries to appease him. He becomes edgy. At one point, the tension becomes so unbearable that he erupts, launching an attack. Afterward, regretting his actions, he attempts to reconcile – promising that it will never happen again. He'll change. He becomes the man she fell in love with. She wants to believe him.

Calm returns, but tension builds again. He explodes. He repents. There is peace... yet, the cycle repeats and repeats, again and again.

Calling All St. James Knitters and Crocheters

Got some yarn in your stash that might work for a nice scarf? For the fifth year, St. James is participating in the CHASE THE CHILL program to provide hand-made scarves for those in need during our harsh winter. Please help us keep our PADS guests warm this winter, by creating a winter scarf.

On the weekend of November 21-22, you are invited to bring your clean scarf in a Ziploc bag to the designated receptacle outside the parish office door. PADS guests will select their scarves on Wednesday, November 25th. Any pattern of about 6 inches wide by at least 60 inches long will be greatly appreciated. For more info or a pattern, please check out www.chasethechill.com or connect with Kathy at kk_ek@msn.com or at 847-255-8899. Thank YOU!

We graciously thank the generous donors of our Jubilation HOUSE PARTY!
